Takes a Stand in the Insurance Case,

And Declares Hyde Was An Applicant for An Ambassadorship.

EX-GOVERNOR O'DELL

Is Also a Thorn In the Handsome Man's Side at the Hearing.

Knew of No Effort to Stop the Illicit Insurance Legislation.

New York, Nov. 16.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew, on the witness stand at the insurance investigation, testified that he was asked by Jas. Hyde to use his influence with President Roosevelt to secure Mr. Hyde the ambassadorship to France. He spoke to the president but the latter said that it was impossible to give Mr. Hyde the appointment he desired.

As to his retention as counsel by the Equitable society Senator Depew said his statement to Supt. Henevick covered the field, but he made an extended statement of his associations with Henry B. Hyde, and said he continued with the society, because it was one of Mr. Hyde's injunctions to his son. Senator Depew was salaried as counsel at $20,000 a year.

New York, Nov. 16.—B. G. O'Dell, Jr., former governor of New York, and at present chairman of the state republican committee, was the first witness before the insurance investigating committee today. Before his testimony was begun, Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Jas. Hyde, entered an objection protesting against the investigation of the U. S. Shipbuilding by the committee. Mr. Hughes began by asking Mr. O'Dell to tell the facts pertaining to the Mercantile Trust Co. charter and the witness said he would prefer to tell of the whole transaction leading up to the settlement if permitted. Mr. Untermyer protested that if the committee permitted it would take them far outside the legitimate line of inquiry. Senator Armstrong referred the protest to Mr. Hughes who said he would call to Mr. O'Dell's attention "the fact that the matter which concerns the committee is simply the question whether there was any political influence or pressure brought to bear upon the Mercantile Trust Co. directly or indirectly, to induce a settlement."

"There was not," said Mr. O'Dell. "Will you state governor," asked Mr. Hughes, "whether you had any information with regard to the introduction of a bill in the senate for the purpose of repealing the charter of the Mercantile Trust Co.?"

"I knew of it at the time."

"What advised you of it?"

"I knew of it before its introduction."

"From whom did you get the information?"

"Oh, various people inquiring as to the propriety of the introduction of such a measure."

"Did you suggest its introduction?"

"No."

"Did you ever come to you indirectly?"

"Possibly through the national committee and Senator Platt."

"What relation had Senator Platt to the matter?"

"He always gathered all the funds together ever since I have been connected with republican politics except the last year."

The witness said he knew nothing of the efforts of the insurance companies to prevent illicit legislation and knew of A. C. Fields' activity in that direction only by hearsay. He did not know Andrew Hamilton. He said no monies had ever been placed in his hands directly or indirectly for political purposes or otherwise to influence legislation. His was not the only shipbuilding suit settled, said Mr. O'Dell. The Untermyer suit was settled so were others. He felt that his claims were just.

"Of course," said Mr. Hughes, "you will understand the committee is not here to try out the merits of claims, we are simply interested because definite threats were made."

"There is no truth in that statement, so help me God."

When his settlement was under discussion, Mr. Hyde said to him that the Equitable had always made political contributions. Mr. Hyde did not, however, give particulars. Here Mr. O'Dell was asked to tell precisely the facts about the introduction of the Ambler bill. He replied: "Why I had prepared the introduction of that bill and brought the whole shipbuilding case before Mr. Jerome, the district attorney of New York, and stated that he had better look into it and see whether there was anything connection with, or anything in connection with the scandal which should not be investigated by his office. He had the case for some time, and said to me after several weeks that he had gone into it very carefully and he came to the conclusion that there were no grounds for criminal prosecution. In the meantime such concerns as the Fire Company and the Whiting Paper Co., and American Bicycle Trust and some fourteen or fifteen others had been brought to the attention of the state of New York should be stopped."

While Mr. O'Dell was testifying, Senator Depew entered the room. Considering, Mr. O'Dell said that the bill was intended to provide for an investigation of the Mercantile Trust Co. He could not recall that he had an interview with Assemblyman Fisk in regard to the introduction of a bill similar to Senator Ambler's repeat bill. His only interview with Senator Ambler about the bill was after it had been introduced. At that time he had not pending against the Mercantile Trust Co. His suit was brought in a August, 1904, while the bill was introduced in March, 1904. The witness said he still had every dollar's worth of his shipbuilding holdings. These holdings were sold at auction and brought $43,657 against $161,171 paid for them.

Since their sale, witness has had no interest in the Shipbuilding Co. The sale was made because there would be matters of legislation come up affecting shipbuilding affairs and he felt that as governor, he should not be interested directly or indirectly in the bonds. He contemplated bringing action against the Mercantile Trust Co. in August, 1904. He had no interview with J. P. Morgan regarding his shipbuilding claim but did have with Chas. M. Schwab. His interview with Mr. Schwab was when the company was in the hands of a receiver.

"Did you make any statement to anybody in the city of New York that retaliatory measures of any kind would be taken?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"Never."

He said he never made any such statement to Mr. Harriman nor did he ever have any interview with Mr. Harriman in which it was suggested that Harriman should use his influence to procure a settlement of the witness' claim against the Mercantile Trust Co.

"Then," said Mr. Hughes, "I understand your testimony is that you never directly or indirectly used any threat to procure a settlement of that suit?"

"No, sir."

"Was the legislation which was proposed by Senator Ambler in any way a topic of conversation when the settlement of your suit came up?"

"Never excepting—yes—when I had a talk with Mr. Hyde, he spoke of it and I told him no matter what the outcome of our settlement might be, whether I should go into the courts or the case should be settled by the Mercantile Trust Co. that there was no fear of retaliatory legislation."

Mr. O'Dell said he told Jas. H. Hyde, at their first interview that the Ambler bill would be stopped by him, that there was no fear, no matter what was done about his settlement, of any retaliatory legislation. He did not bother Mr. Harriman about the matter. Mr. O'Dell said he wrote a letter at the request of Mr. McIntyre, former fourth vice president of the Equitable, in behalf of Mr. Hyde's candidacy for the French ambassadorship. This had nothing to do with the shipbuilding settlement. The letter was written before the settlement.

"We have had mention in their use of your testimony the subject of contribution for political purposes. You have stated that you never solicited money from an insurance company; were any offer made to your voluntary?"

"No."

"Did you ever come to you indirectly?"

"Possibly through the national committee and Senator Platt."

"What relation had Senator Platt to the matter?"

"He always gathered all the funds together ever since I have been connected with republican politics except the last year."

Take Courage!

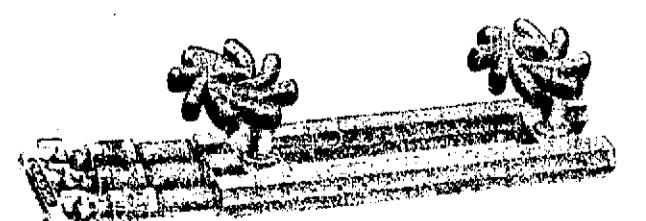

If you are naturally not as strong as your more fortunate sisters, and for this reason experience dread rather than joy at the prospect of becoming a mother, take courage and assurance from this fact: Mother's Friend is meant for you, and by its use you may pass through that glorious martyrdom which is yours by divine right with no more discomfort than that experienced by those who by nature are possibly more adapted for the role of motherhood.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is a balm of proven merit, and its great worth can be no better attested than by the countless strong and healthy children who through its kindly offices have entered this world unhampered by any deformity or weakness. It is a balm which by external application acts upon the abdominal muscles and relieves of a painful partition.

JOSEPH RAMSEY, JR.

Receives Opinions of His Lawyers Concerning Wabash Muddle.

Explosion of a Lamp Sets Fire to a Mail Car—Railroad News.

New York, Nov. 16.—Jos. Ramsey, Jr., ex-president of the Wabash road returned to New York from the West yesterday. Mr. Ramsey recently received from his lawyers in Ohio their decision of the legal steps he may take connection with his failure to be re-elected as president. It is felt that his lawyers have informed Mr. Ramsey that he is in a position to take certain legal steps that may result in at least a partial reversal of the recent election of directors.

Mr. Ramsey said yesterday, "I have received the opinions of my attorneys in the matter but I have not yet determined what action I shall take."

In regard to the Little Kanawha syndicate, which recently transferred its properties to the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, Mr. Ramsey said that all that remained to be done was a review of the accounts of the syndicate and this was now being done.

THE ISLE OF PINES IN REVOLT.

The people of the Isle of Pines are in revolt. They, or rather the Americans among them, have issued a declaration of independence from Cuba.
They also announce that they have established a territorial government under the Constitution of the United States. On this latter point they are very much mistaken, but nevertheless their uprising is not entirely of the opera bouffe type. It involves the honor of the United States, which is already somewhat compromised by much dilly-dallying with Cuba over the question of the sovereignty of the island.

The area of the Isle of Pines less than that of Cook County. Its population in 1899, as shown by the census of Cuba, in which it was included, was 2,199. The American population is now estimated at about 600, though the revolutionaries say the Americans number one-third of the present total.
By the treaty of Paris, Spain ceded to the United States the "Island of Porto Rico and the other Islands now under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies." Cuba, of course, was excluded, but nobody thought to mention specifically anywhere in the treaty the little Isle of Pines. Inasmuch, however, as the island had become an integral part of Cuba by a Spanish decree of 1878, and as it was regularly administered as a municipal district in the Province of Havana, Cuba naturally expected to keep it.

While the American armies were in Cuba they also held in occupation the Isle of Pines. When they left Cuba they also left the Isle. The Platt amendment of March 2, 1901, provided that the Isle of Pines shall be omitted from the proposed constitutional boundaries of Cuba, the date thereto being left to future adjustment by treaty. Secretary Root's instructions to the army were that, pending the settlement of title by treaty, "the present government of the Isle of Pines will continue as a de facto government."

By the "present government" all our official documents show the Cuban government was meant.

Then came our negotiations with Cuba for coaling stations. These we obtained by treaty, paying an annual rental for them. Not all 1902 was a treaty concerning the Isle of Pines prepared. It provided that "in consideration of the coaling stations the island should be recognized as Cuban.
That treaty is still hanging fire in the Senate."

Meantime a colony of Americans had settled in the Isle. These colonists claim this government encouraged them to think that the Isle would remain American soil. They allege oppressions by the Cuban officials. They demand that their "vested interest" be respected by the United States.
They also talk about "Boston tea parties," the spirit of which is in their blood, and declare that the "child of freedom" never dies away when once he has perched.

If Cuba attempts to put down the "revolution" by force the president of the United States will be compelled to take a stand for one or the other.
Whatever else happens the "revolution" should induce the Senate to take prompt action upon the pending treaty when it meets next month.

THE AUTOCRAT

In addition to having been selected as a member of the Constitutional Assembly, he is a member of the Senate of the Montevideo Congress, and which had been ratified, and it was recommended that this ought to be done at once, and in accordance with the wishes of the people who came in it. It was decided that some adjustment could be made that would prevent the inadvice upon the police of their securities, among others those which I have mentioned, in the meantime the papers had taken very different and antagonistic views of the matter, whether they had been inspired or not I do not know, but there was more or less talk about being a measure to get even with somebody, and then when Senator Amador came in to see me and talked with me about it, I said to him that under the circumstances he better let the whole thing drop."

Mr. Untermyer asked permission to cross examine Mr. O'Dell but was refused. Senator Clemoncy M. Depew was then called. The senator said he had been a director of the Equitable since 1877, and was a member of the executive committee. He never heard of the various trusted accounts until this investigation or political contribution only in a general way. He did not know the amount contributed to the national campaign in 1904. He hoped both state and national legislatures would pass laws prohibiting these contributions. He thought the contributions were made in the interests of the association, but he thought the publicity given to the matter in this investigation has changed his minds of almost everybody. Senator Depew said he was first asked to go into a syndicate by George H. Soule.
He declined the various syndicates the sum of $1,218 in these syndicates he had $200,000 tied up most of the time and $160,000 is still tied up.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

A committee has been formed in England to raise funds for a monument to Livingstone. It is to be placed in Chitabo, at the place where he expired.

The real name of the famous operatic tenor, Max Alvary, was Achenbach. His father, the famous painter, Professor Andreas Achenbach, is still living, aged 50. His birthday was late-rally celebrated officially by the city of Dusseldorf.

In the church yard of Woolwich, Kent, England, is the epitaph: "Sacred to the memory of Major James Brush, Royal artillery, who was killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol by his orderly 14th April, 1831. Well done good and faithful servant."

If circumstances permitted him to have his own way in the matter the king of Italy would be absolutely the worst-dressed man of monarchs. Entertaining no liking for smart clothes, he wears the oldest of suits in privacy.
He has a fondness for soft fellow and soft of the like.

WITH PRAYERS

On Their Lips the Helpless Prisoners

In a New York Tenement House Awaited an Awful Death.

A FIRE HAD STARTED

On the Ground Floor of the Building While They Slept.

Five Persons, Hemmed in By the Flames Were Burned to Death.

New York, Nov. 16.—At least five persons were burned to death in an Italian tenement house fire at 221 east 73rd street, early today. The house was six floors high and the sleeping tenants on the five upper floors were made prisoners by flames, with the ground floor a roaring furnace beneath them. Three of those who lost their lives were kneeling in prayer when the fire reached them.

Within the first hour after the fire was under control the bodies of three women and two men had been taken from the stairways between the second and third floors. The police believe that the fire was started by an incendiary. It began in a heap of rubbish at the bottom of an air shaft and spread through the interior of the lower story on the ground floor. A policeman was the first person to see the fire just as it had begun to creep up the air shaft. He ran into the building, pointing on the back doors all the way up to the sixth floor to awaken the tenants. The fire followed him so swiftly that when he reached the top floor he was obliged to send the tenants there out to the fire escape to save them from suffocating within a few moments. On all the floors below the fire escapes were packed with persons whom the flames had cut off from escape by the interior stairways.

When the fire department arrived with its ladders, nearly every one of the fire escapees was floundering in panic. In addition to the fire, a horror on the scene was the action of the men who stood with their arms full of personal possession, while their wives fought, unaided, to protect the children from being trampled by the crowd or suffocated by the smoke.

Every one on the fire escapee was saved by the firemen. The first group of dead were found on the stairways near the second floor. On the next staircase above the firemen found the bodies of two men, and the men had evidently knelt together where they had died.

The dead—Gus Giuseppe Randzio, Antonio Olaria, Cervitico Thiesza, Sami Tasta, Antino Scheda.

The lessor of the house told the police that the "Black Hand Society" had recently sent him letters demanding $2,000. Although the demand did not state what the penalty was to be for refusing to pay the money, the police have begun an investigation on the belief that the fire was started by the writer of the letters.

TIFFANY

Favorite Art Glass on Exhibition at Macdonald Jewelry Co.

We have at considerable cost and trouble gotten Tiffany, of New York City, to send us a selection of their noted art glass, direct from their new studio, at 45th street and Madison Avenue, New York City. Any one who is at all familiar with art goods or the reputation of Tiffany, of New York City—will readily understand what meaning for us to make this announcement. In this glass its individualities in its diversified radiance of design. This glass not only took the grand prize at Paris, Buffalo and St. Louis expositions, but is a part of all the noted museums of art in the world.

Every piece has Louis C. Tiffany's name cut in the glass. We have brought the case here to show the public that there is nothing of worldwide reputation that we can't get.

It's done as an advertisement as there are only five stores in the state that show the goods.

FOR ROUMANIA

A Party of Twelve Oil Well Drillers

Will Sail Under Contract
With the Standard Oil Company

TO DRILL OIL WELLS

And to Teach the Natives
the American Methods of Drilling.

Review of Recent Operations in the Trenton Rock Fields.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16.—Twelve oil well drillers from the northwestern Pennsylvania oil fields will leave here for New York tomorrow and will sail for Roumania on Saturday. The party is made up of experts in their line and goes to Roumania under contract with the Standard Oil company to develop the oil field of that country. The men will act as instructors as well as operators and will teach the natives the American methods of oil well drilling.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 16.—The best well completed for some time in Jay county is that of the Bear Creek Oil Co.'s No. 1, on the Reuben Bechtel farm, section 24, abandoned Nov. 10. The Bear Creek town ship, Jay county. It produced 20 barrels first day. The Eclipse Oil Co. of Boston, got a couple of bad bumps in the way of driller J. W. Chapman farm, in the northwest quarter of Section 19, and another on the W. M. Carson farm, section 17. Both were the first well on each farm. Conover Rice & Co.'s No. 8, Frank Antler farm, section 23, pumped 45 barrels, and No. 10, Stahl heirs farm, section 36, pumped 20 barrels. The Ohio Oil Co. has abandoned Nos. 5 and 10, C. Hershey farm, section 25, Berrien & Walsh barns Nos. 1 and 2, J. W. Holler farm, section 23.

In Monroe township, J. L. Kessner has abandoned Nos. 1 and 2, R. Haegger farm, section 23, and the Chander Oil Co.'s No. 3, E. Plickinger farm, section 22.

In Wabash township, R. M. Carter has abandoned No. 4, Susan Clay farm, section 23.

CARE OF THE NAILS.

The best manicure of today work in so simple a fashion that you often look at the rosy, polished nails after they are through with you and wonder how it all came about. As is the same with caring for the nails yourself. Too many women make too much of an operation of it; too heretic treatment almost as bad as not enough.

Any woman who is willing to devote a half hour once a week and five minutes every day can have attractive looking nails. Some, of course, are less responsive to treatment than others, but none is hopeless. Some are too brittle, which cause them to break and others are too soft, and bend in an annoying manner. This shows plainly that they need an emollient of some sort.

If you can, consult a reliable manicure, who will advise you just what will be best for your particular case. Persevere until you find preparation that is beneficial and then persevere in using it until your nails are in a healthy, normal condition.

The beauty of the nails depends upon three points: the gauge, color and satiny smoothness. Long, pink nail, beautifully polished, with a moon-shaped curve at the base, are greatly to be desired.

After getting your nails in a healthy condition the next step is to get them well shaped.

Fashion at present decrees that the nails should follow the curve of the end of the finger and this is much the best. Run the hand around the outlines of the nails and shape them as prettily as possible; then, for them alone.

Constant snapping with curved scissars is responsible for many a misshapen nail. The cuticle should next receive attention. There is no possible excuse for using scissars upon the cuticle, and the sooner the woman who is doing her own manicuring learns this the better for the appearance of her hands. After soaking the fingers in warm water, push the cuticle gently back with a bit of soft Turkish toweling. If it is slightly difficult, use a little cold cream or an orangewood stick very gently, and with much caution. This will keep the nail long and almond-shaped and cause the moons to appear. There are moons at the base of every nail, and perseverance in this treatment will make them appear.

Brilliantly polished nails are now in style, and I will tell you how you can make them look like polished rose teaves.

If there are any stains, bleach them with a solution of fifteen drops of carbolic acid to a tumbler of water. Anally with the orangewood stick, dipping it into the solution frequently. When about to polish the nails run a little finely powdered pumice over them, dampen the buffer slightly and dip it in the panicle. This will take off any roughness and prepare the nail for the polish.

For polishing, use the buffer and one of the good powders that come for this purpose; and it is most important that you get a good one, otherwise you may injure the nails beyond restoration. The final polish should be given by putting a little powder on the palm of the hand and rubbing the nail swiftly across the palm.

Once a week is quite often enough for the general shaping removal of stains and pumice treatment, but once a day the cuticle should be raised and a little cold cream pushed under it; and at least once a day the nails should be briskly polished with the powder and buffer.

Many wrongly believe that manual or domestic work dries the nails to brittleness, but this is not so. The treatment advised above will bring out all the natural shell-like of the nails and preserve their beauty indefinitely. But they must have regular attention or their beauty will disappear.

BERTILLON'S SYSTEM

Is Considered Very Important By Supt. Withoff, of Dayton.

An Interesting Paper Read
Before Police Chiefs' Convention.

Since Walter S. Mills, chief of the Lima police department, has determined to adopt the Bertillon system of measurements of criminals as an adjunct to his department, the following paper, which was read before the police chiefs' convention at Springfield recently, by Frank W. Withoff, superintendent of the Bertillon system in Dayton, will be of interest in this city:

The Bertillon System.

Many things of worth remain undiscovered for centuries. Not only is this true, but even after discovery, much real worth is still unknown to us thereafter. Radium, for instance, its value at discovery, it is now known to the scientific world today, and the possibilities of the future.

These facts are not only true of discoveries, but may also apply to inventions, systems, and so forth.

The Bertillon system of identification instituted about 20 years ago is now in use in the various countries of the world, is passing through some conditions as mentioned above. That it is a system of worth was long ago known to its founder but the real value still remains practically unknown to the public, or a few unrecognized, is an established fact; that its greatest possibilities are still before it, is recognized now by operators and by some of the segments which have instilled it in the minds of the people.

Its Hypothetical Value.

The Bertillon branch of the police department, like all others, is given little thought or attention until trouble, disturbance, theft, or appointment to some branch of its service brings a personal interest in the matter. Why, as a rule, and almost usually so, the police department should have less consideration by the public than any other branch of the police service, except for self-interest.

However, as heads of the departments throughout the country, but as representing the operators of the Bertillon system, this paper is not intended to cover the police department work generally, nor the country at large, but only our own system of identification, and primarily the state of Ohio.

Ignorance of its value is the result of the public opinion of the Bertillon system being such as it is, namely, "that it is of little worth," and education is necessary to correct this.

Education is one of the greatest factors in the progress of the world today. Education along a particular line makes a specialist of a person and brings to the foreground the facts pertaining to that one particular thing. What the Bertillon system does best is the education of the people along that particular line of value; then its true value will become known; then its real efficiency will become apparent; and, as apparent, it will receive the cooperation and aid of the people, both morally and financially, will be put upon a basis which will make it permanent; its equipment will be up to date; its operators appreciated, their positions made secure and as a result the efficiency increases many per cent.

DOES THIS SUIT YOU?

C. W. Heister, the enterprising druggist of 18 Union Square, Lima, is having such a large run on "HINDIPO," the new kidney cure and nerve tonic, and hear it so highly praised that they now offer to guarantee it in every case to cure all forms of kidney troubles and nervous disorders.

The question then naturally arises: how can the people be educated to a correct view of the system? This can be done in several ways. I might suggest:

First. Let it be thoroughly explained to those officials on whom we may depend for appropriations and financial support.

Second. Create a public opinion for the system. This can be done (a) by giving the results of the work of the system of identification promulgated through the newspapers; (b) by contributing short articles now and then for publication, of facts and information concerning the work of the system, which will awaken a general interest in the public to know more about it; (c) and again, by not losing opportunity to bring it before prominent men of affairs in the city whose interest once aroused and influenced turned for the system, because it is a valuable adjunct towards security that is needed for the support of equipment and proper advancement of it.

These things will not only correct the apparent public opinion concerning the system, namely, that it is of little value but will force upon the public the fact that it is a necessary police work and will result eventually in its establishment more universally in the departments throughout the state.

Its Real Value.

The real value of any thing is measured by the manner in which it serves the purpose for which it was intended, and so the real value of the Bertillon system as opposed to its hypothetical value is measured not by the people think of it, but by what it actually accomplishes.

Many repudiated criminals would certainly have been turned loose and innocent persons, respectable citizens unnecessarily arrested, unidentified, a dozen thieves that they were, had it been for the system. And a dozen identifications were made, while hundreds of others being made, fugitives reclaim, fugitives from justice being returned to penal institutions; society at large freed from apprehension of criminals; crime lessened; old offenders endanders separated due.

LAW MISLEADING

Officials Hold Dates Announced Are Not Inclusive.

Although the state laws provide for an open season for the hunting of rabbits from Nov. 1 to Dec. 5, Game Warden received an opinion from County prosecutor and attorney general to the effect that it will be lawful for any hunter to shoot quail and rabbits before November 16 and after December 4.

While it was probably the intention of the last legislature to grant the citizens of the state the privileges of shooting the game between the dates specified in the law inclusive, the attorney general and county prosecutor say that the law cannot be so construed.

Game Warden Leffel says that the general impression prevails among hunters that the game can be shot from the dates mentioned in the law and gives notice that any person who is not abiding by the proper construction of the law will be prosecuted.

A CLEAN MAN.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness, not only outside, but inside.

It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, clean liver, and new, clean healthy tissues and fibers in every organ of the body. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood.

Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy.

It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It doesn't make the skin flabby fat of corpulence, but the firm flesh of health.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol to incite or create craving for injurious stimulants.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glen Savage, writes: "My appetite was unusually poor, and I was starved for months. My health kept declining continually and I was weak. Finally I wrote to you for advice and you sent me your drug. I took a few pills, and I did not think your drug was right, but I ordered six bottles of Little Liver Pills and began taking them. After using three bottles I began to feel better and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

Constipation is the most uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never grip.

More experience, more measurements; more measurements, more identifications; more identifications, more convictions; more convictions, less arrests in large, and finally, less crime which is the single aim of

COUNTY'S RECORDER

Now the Happy Husband of a Charming and Estimable Bride.

COVER-MELL WEDDING

Was One of the Prettiest Events of the Winter Season.

Last evening at 5:15 occurred the marriage of Mr. P. T. Mell, county recorder, and Miss Louise Hoover, the Rev. Father Manning performing the ceremony at his residence, witnessed only by the immediate family. They were attended by Miss Helen Hoover, of Hartford City, Ind., and Mr. Rex Hoover, of this city, niece and nephew of the bride. The bridal gown was of snowball Swiss and the flowers, white chrysanthemums. Miss Helen Hoover wore a gown of white Persian lawn and her flowers were also white chrysanthemums.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the party was driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Edwards, on North West street, where from 6 to 8, a wedding reception was held, the guests numbering sixty.

The decorations here were in white and red-white chrysanthemums tiny red hearts making a most effective decoration. A supper course was served and in the course of the full enjoyment of the meal, the guests discovered the bride and groom had disappeared and had thereby evaded all the obstruction that had been planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Mell were at home after December 1st in a home already furnished on south Metcalf street. The guests from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hoover and daughter Helen and Margaret, of Hartford City, Ind.; Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Mell of Delphos, and the groom's parents, Miss Mell, of Delphos.

RED-HUFFMAN.

Nuptials Celebrated at the St. John's Church in Delphos.

Fr. A. I. Hoeffer officiated in the marriage at St. John's church yesterday when Mr. Benjamin Dickred, near Glandorf and Miss Anna Huffman were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. Miss Anna Dickred, sister of the groom, and Mr. Jos. Huffman, brother of the bride, were the attendants. The bride and her attendant wore Persian lawn gowns and each carried a bouquet of carnations.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's parents, three miles northwest of Delphos, where they were greeted by a number of relatives and friends and the event was appropriately celebrated today. Mr. and Mrs. Dickred will go to housekeeping at once on a farm two miles west of Glandorf with the best wishes of their many friends.

THE STAGE.

"Buster Brown" of comic supplement fame loaded down with a brand new set of resolutions and accompanied by his pet dog Tige, his companion in crime, will be the attraction at the Faurot opera house Saturday matinee and night. The antics of this well known character and his dog Tige, to put it mildly, are exasperatingly funny and "America's Toy Comedian" is a little genius in his way. He is said to be in his twenty-second year, but is in stature a midget, being several sizes smaller, even than Tige, and he romps through his part with unfailing spirit. Childlike he is not, except in stature and looks, but he is impishly clever.

"The King of Rogues" is the title of a new melodrama which will be seen here on next Monday evening. It is a play of the modern school and is replete with thrilling situations and climaxes. Seemingly it will be a mammoth and complete production, and the many scenes shown are wonders in the art of stage craft. The first act shows the docks at Rio Janeiro, the second act the Hotel Cecil in "Frisco," and the third act, the terrible struggle on the roof of a tall car attached to a train going at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and many other scenes which vie with each other for supremacy in startling climaxes.

"The King of Rogues" is the title of a new melodrama which will be seen here on next Monday evening. It is a play of the modern school and is replete with thrilling situations and climaxes. Seemingly it will be a mammoth and complete production, and the many scenes shown are wonders in the art of stage craft. The first act shows the docks at Rio Janeiro, the second act the Hotel Cecil in "Frisco," and the third act, the terrible struggle on the roof of a tall car attached to a train going at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and many other scenes which vie with each other for supremacy in startling climaxes.

HE IS IN LINE

To Succeed Poole as City Freight Agent.

Chief Clerk Fletcher Is Now Mentioned for the Promotion.

RAILROAD PAY DAYS

Sixty Thousand Being Distributed by the Two Roads.

Dispatcher Shartle Resigns To Go With Coast Line.

There is a strong rumor afloat in Lake Erie circles that the successor to Freight Agent E. E. Poole will be a Lima boy. Mr. Poole will leave Lima in about ten days, his promotion being dated for December first. A call on that gentleman this morning resulted in his stating that he had not in any manner been advised as to who his successor here will be. However, there is a gentleman in the employ of the company who stands very high, and who as chief clerk to Mr. Poole has acquired thorough knowledge of the executive end, and is believed to be fully competent, while he has legions of friends among the soopers, for his courteous manner in handling their affairs. Lima merchants and Lima railroaders will be highly pleased to see Carl Fletcher this chief clerk promoted to the position he has earned, and which he can fill to the highest expectation of his company.

SIXTY THOUSAND

Dollars Distributed Among C. H. and D. and Lake Erie Men. Yesterday and the day before were distributing periods for the C. H. and D. and Lake Erie & Western. It is estimated that between $50,000 and $60,000 was paid out by the roads. Much of the C. H. and D. money is yet in the shape of checks, the men not having had time to cash them.

out the whole bundle of good cash will be ready for general distribution into the channels of trade by Saturday night, and the wise merchant and the wise purchaser will meet.

CONCRETE FLOOR.

And Tile Roof Will the New Train Shed Possess.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new train shed at the union depot. The concrete is down as far as the baggage room, and the greater portion of the first covering is on. This will be finished with tile. While this is going on outside, the station inside is being thoroughly repainted and varnished, and presents a scene of general house cleaning. This will be the prettiest passenger station in the city when all the improvements which should be done by the first of the month, are completed.

SHARTLE GOES SOUTH

Resigns as Dispatcher of C. H and D. and Left Today.

L. L. Shartle, one of the competent dispatchers under Chief Dispatcher George Reel, of the C. H. and D. has resigned and left this morning for Savannah, Georgia. Shartle has held down the third trick, and has been a valuable man. He wanted the south's warmth or his, however, but Trainmaster Scott merely stated he could have sixty days' leave and if he wished to return his "key" would be found open. That is Trainmaster Scott's style, and it is endearing him to every man in the service. Mr. Shartle is succeeded here by C. E. Voorhees, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Shartle will stay north until her husband is thoroughly located with his new quarters in the dispatchers offices of the Atlantic Coast Line at Savannah, and will follow later.

LIMA SINGERS

Won Six Prizes at the Eisteddfod.

Captured the Main Event at Venedocia With Thirty-seven Voices.

A PERFECT RENDITION

Of the Mixed Chorus, "When Winds Breath Soft," Was Given.

John F. Jones, Miss Longsworth and Other Limites Winners.

The Lima singers came home from Venedocia this morning about two o'clock, tired but happy, having won the main event of the Eisteddfod, the mixed chorus, "When Winds Breath soft." The adjudicator gave the Lima people credit for giving an absolutely perfect rendition of the very difficult competitive chorus.

Lima had entries on the mixed quartette, on the ladies' quartette, tenor and bass duet, the alto solo, the tenor solo and the piano solo.

The contest on the quartettes were very exciting, the Lima party on the mixed quartette consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Piequette, Mrs. A. C. Feltz and Mr. John F. Jones, and this was the successful party.

On the ladies' quartette, Lima had two entries, the quartette consisting of the Sontag sisters and another party made up of Mesdames Piequette, Wells, Longsworth and Feltz. There were entries from other places also. The latter party was awarded the prize.

John F. Jones, of this city, was one of the successful party in the tenor and bass duet, Mr. Heber Richards, of Findlay, sang with Mr. Jones.

On the alto solo there were two out of the Lima party competing, Miss Effie Longsworth and Miss Millie Sontag, the prize going to Miss Longsworth.

In the tenor solo contest, the prize should have gone to Mr. Deisel in the opinion of all who heard, except the adjudicator. Upon a technical point the prize was given to Mr. Bushey, of Gomer, a young man the possessor of a natural tenor voice of great beauty. All critics, however, united in the opinion that Mr. Deisel should have received the money.

Miss Mabel Hiskey was successful in the piano solo contest.

The male chorus contest was between Gomer and Van Wert united, and the celebrated Cambrian Glee Club, of Venedocia, the only two choirs competing. It was a magnificent competition. The prize was awarded to Gomer and Van Wert. Gomer also won the Glee for sixteen to twenty-four voices, by adhering to strict time as marked in the music. Lima and Venedocia being ruled out solely for the reason that liberties were taken with the time. This was a magnificent competition and elicited praise from all.

In the main contest of the evening, four choirs competed, and sang in the following order, the Mendelssohn Glee Club of Lima, first; the Venedocia Choral Society, second; the Van Wert Choral Union, third; and the Gomer Choral Society fourth. Lima had a party of thirty-seven voices, the other choirs ranged from sixty to eighty. The prize was awarded as above stated, to Lima, with highest words of praise by the adjudicator.

The Lima party out of eight entries secured six prizes and of course perfect rendition of the very difficult competitive chorus.

A BRILLIANT EVENT

Was Zetlitz-Fletcher Wedding Which Occurred Last Night.

A CANOPY OF SMILAX

Lent Refreshing Beauty to Scene of the Sacred Ceremony.

Last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eggert N. Zetlitz, on west Market street, occurred the marriage of their daughter Borghild, and Mr. Carl Fletcher, in the presence of fifty guests. Rev. Mr. Traub, pastor of the Spring street Lutheran church performing the ceremony beneath a canopy of smilax arranged in a corner of the west parlor. As Prof. Clint Rich mond played Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride entered with her father and was met by the groom with the officiating clergyman. Preceding the wedding march, Miss Minnie Har old sang very sweetly, "Oh Perfect Love." The bride is a beautiful girl and appeared charming in a gown of champagne colored silk crepe. She carried yellow chrysanthemums. Following congratulations a wedding supper of two courses was served by Misses Minnie Herold, Edna Francis, Ethel Fletcher and Helen Burton. The bride's table was a gorgeous array of floral beauty, the center being banked with American beauties.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zetlitz, a beautiful girl, who possesses a rich soprano voice and is always heard with delight by Lima people. Mr. Fletcher is the chief clerk in the Lake Erie & Western freight house and his genial manner has won for him many friends, not only in Lima, but elsewhere. At 9:15, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher left over the interurban for a short wedding trip and when they return will be at home to their friends in the Miller flats.

Among the messages of congratulation was a telegram from relatives in Stavanger, Norway, which came just after the ceremony had been performed.
